50-Day Re-employment Rule for Retired Members of the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan

Due to recent inquiries, the Ontario Teachers' Federation (OTF) wishes to clarify the re-employment rules for retired members. The current rule is 50 days, which means that a retiree can work to the end of the month in which they exceed their 50-day limit while drawing both employment income and their pension. If they choose to continue working beyond that month, their pension is simply suspended until they stop working or until the following September 1st, whichever occurs first. Each new school year provides a brand new 50-day limit for all retirees.

OTF respects the right of all Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan (OTPP) members to make their own retirement decisions, weighing their own financial and personal factors in the process. Having made the significant decision to retire, they understand that working after retirement rules provide an opportunity, not a barrier, to providing their talents to the school system within reasonable limits.

There are some great resources and scenarios that can be found on the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan website:

Re-employment overview: <https://www.otpp.com/members/cms/en/life-career-events/retirement-life/working-after-retirement.html>

OTF recommends that retired members keep track of their days worked and to reach out to a Pension Benefit Specialist at the OTPP with any inquiries about how re-employment rules apply to them, or to confirm details of their re-employment.
